

Homeowner fined for renting out sheds

Winnipeg Free Press, September 16, 2009

A Winnipeg homeowner, Charlie Warman, has been fined by the Manitoba Health Department for housing two people in sheds behind his house. The two tenants paid $100 per month and claim they would otherwise be homeless if it were not for Warman. There is now a scramble to find housing for the two. Read the story here, and links to previous articles.

www.winnipegrentnet.ca